

Language Arts

Students will write a variety of paragraphs, essays, research reports, lab reports and responses using the six traits of writing. Grammar instruction will focus on the parts of speech, capitalization and punctuation. Fifth graders also learn spelling strategies using high-frequency words. Students are expected to apply these basic English and spelling skills correctly in all their written work. Speaking and listening skills are developed through class discussions and oral presentations.