

Science

The inquiry process of questioning, hypothesizing, observing, experimenting, collecting data, analyzing and concluding is emphasized throughout the year. Using a hands-on activity-based approach, the students will study three units: Environments, Mixtures and Solutions, and Models and Designs. The last unit is paired with an Engineering is Elementary component in which the students will act as electrical engineers to design a solution to a problem-solving challenge.