

Social Studies

The students will study United States history from the First Americans through the Revolutionary War, learn beginning economic and political concepts and develop their understanding of our country's geography and fifty states.